MEMBERSHIP TYPES

Please complete and return this form or fill out an online application at scte.org/join.

SCTE•ISBE offers several membership options for both individuals and organizations within the cable telecommunications industry. Choose the option that best fits you and your organization.

INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP TYPES

Professional Membership

Membership is open to any person employed in the engineering or technical operations, cable television, broadband communications or broadcasting systems.

Executive Membership

This membership is open to cable professionals in a management or leadership capacity who hold a position of director level or higher.

Lifetime Membership

Avoid price changes and the hassle of renewal invoices. A one-time payment allows you to take advantage of professional member benefits without having to renew annually.

In-Transition Members

Individuals who have been displaced from a job receive a 50% discount on membership dues. If you are in transition, please call Member Services at (800) 542-5040.

Retired Members

Any current active member who is no longer employed full-time in the broadband industry, has been a member in good standing for a minimum of 3 years and is at least 55 years of age may apply for retired membership status.

Disabled Members

Persons with the inability to continue working full-time due to illness, injury or other debilitating problem are eligible for retired member status, regardless of age.

Student Members

Eligible individuals are not employed full-time and are pursuing a relevant degree or certificate. (Limited to 4 years—enrollment verification and expected completion date are required.)

CORPORATE MEMBERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Impress your boss by telling him or her how these enhanced SCTE•ISBE corporate memberships can save your company money and improve efficiencies.

Corporate Alliance Partner Program

A strategic partnership between cable industry corporations and SCTE•ISBE, the Corporate Alliance Program includes a wide variety of opportunities including discounted membership rates for their employees. If your company is part of the Corporate Alliance Program, visit scte.org/cap for more information on how to join SCTE•ISBE through your company.

:: If you are interested in more information on the Corporate Alliance Program, contact membership@scte.org.

Standards Program Member

Organizations can participate in the creation, development, and review of technical standards through SCTE•ISBE's dynamic ANSI-accredited standards program. As a Standards Program Member, your company can position itself as a leader, provide input that shapes future industry standards, and have a direct impact on future technology deployed within the industry.

:: Join the Standards Program today by visiting scte.org/standards/join.

Expo Partner Membership

Expo Partner Membership can help your company to position itself as a thought leader and get your name out to every major operator in North America, while also saving you significant money in the process. Expo Partner Membership enables companies to show their support of the Society and its members, while benefiting from a discount on their exhibit space at SCTE•ISBE Cable-Tec Expo®, in addition to many other value-driven benefits.

:: For more information on these benefits, visit scte.org/expopartner.
